

2017 KWSE/APNN International Young Woman Scientist (YWS) Camp & Smart Sister (SS) Workshop

The KWSE/APNN International Young Woman Scientist Camp (YWS Camp) allows the next-generation of women scientists and engineers in the Asia-Pacific region to enhance the global competitiveness with international cooperation while providing opportunities for quality global networking. The 2017 YWS Camp is composed of oral and poster presentations in the research fields, invited lecture, mentoring, discussion and cultural programs. This year's camp will be an excellent opportunity to meet global leaders as well as to experience our global vision of science and technology.
